Action to Be Taken by State Board of Health

Must Be Physically Fit to Enter First Grade School

The Bureau of Child Hygiene of the California State Board of Health and the State Department of Physical Education are planning a month of physical examinations of children who are about to enter school. These examinations will be conducted by qualified physicians, dentists and nurses in nearly every county in the state during the month, April 15th to May 15th. Children residing in the rural districts may take advantage of this opportunity for determining, without cost, if they are physically fit for the first grade.

It is an established fact that large numbers of children suffer from defective teeth, enlarged or diseased tonsils, adenoids, under-nourishment and many other common defects that hinder their progress in school.

A physically handicapped child cannot be educated properly. Making a good start in school life is an important factor in determining the child's progress through his entire school life.

Announcements will follow regarding the time and places in which these physical examinations will be made.

Dangerous Crossing Is Scenes of Another Accident

There was another crossing accident Sunday at Brighton avenue and the Santa Fe railroad track which came near being fatal to the occupants of a light delivery truck.

W. A. Bigelow and wife were driving westerly, and the right of way being obscured they were hit by a southbound passenger train, their machine being wrecked and their lives saved by a miracle.

They were gathered up and taken to Berkeley hospital, where it was found they were not seriously injured, but scratched up pretty bad from the rough experience.

Number 13 Is Lucky For Wilbur

San Francisco, March 20.—Judge Curtis Dwight Wilbur appointed secretary of the navy, claims 13 as a lucky number. To HOLYSTONE A DECK

A holystone is a piece of soft stone, usually sandstone, used in scrubbing decks. To holystone a deck is to scrub it, using holystone. These are smooth on one side at least and have a small depression on the other to receive the end of a handle or stick by which they are pushed back and forth. To increase the scrubbing power of the stones, the decks are wetted and sand is sprinkled over them prior to holystoning. The derivation of the term is supposed to be from the fact that holystoning used chiefly to be done on Saturday as a preparation for Sunday inspection, church, etc.

The City Girl

City Miss—How old is that cow?
Bank—Two years.
City Miss—How can you tell?
Bank—By her horns.
City Miss—Oh, yes, it has two horns, hasn't it?

Friendly Agreement

Comedian—Look 'ere! I objects to going on just after the monkey.

Manager—Well, perhaps you're right. They might think you were no monkey.

Another Hot Geyser Is Discovered at Calistoga

Calistoga, March 20.—The geyser recently discovered here has proven to be the king of all geysers found in this vicinity. Boiling hot water was struck at 150 feet on the old springs grounds, and the geyser is now flowing 300,000 gallons every 24 hours. The water is excellent for bathing, and has valuable medicinal properties.

Congress Is Responsible

Will the American people see through the congressional smoke screen? Will they come to a clear understanding of certain incontrovertible facts?

Direct responsibility for the oil leases and the resultant scandal hangs around the neck of Congress. As one Washington correspondent puts it: "The most outstanding aspect of the situation is the complete failure of Congress to safeguard the national rights and needs. The great trouble in the whole matter goes back to the oil leasing law of February 25, 1920, and the subsequent modification adopted at the request of Secretary Daniels in June of the same year. These measures were passed with almost no debate. The result has been to pave the way for what has happened. Yet not a serious suggestion for the repeal of these statutes has been heard."

Richmond Mail Delivery to Expand

The government often acts slow and deliberate, at times, except when war rumors arise and the situation becomes "serious."

Postmaster James N. Long has improved the service in surrounding himself with an efficient corps of postoffice employees, and the carrier service, especially, is excellent. As the city grows the service is extended, and soon several streets in West Richmond will have mail delivery, as follows:

Standard avenue, from Castro to Marine avenue.

Tewksbury avenue, from Castro to Contra Costa.

Golden Gate avenue, from Contra Costa to Clarence.

Contra Costa avenue, from Standard to Tewksbury.

Fishing for Steelheads in British Columbia

"Fishing in British Columbia" repeated Tom B. Pincus in answer to my query, says Maj. Harding Cox in "A Sportsman at Large." I should say so! Why, when I got right up to the big fish lake the whole surface was a-dimple with risin' beauties. I soon fixed up my pole and line and began castin', but nary a touch did I get. So I got hold of one of the jumpin' grass bugs, which was droppin' on the water, and I fixed it on a number eight hook. But when I went to cast, the durned think came unstuck and landed clear, where it was gollopied up by a big fish.

"I was just figurin' out what my next procedure would be when I cast my eye behind me and fixed it on one of them Cree Indians smiling quite pleasant like. He snapped up a bug from the grass and signed to me to sling him the hook. I did so; thereupon the red-skin pulled a long hair from his florin' locks and tied the bug to the hook. I had a four-pounder first go! Havin' unfix'd it, I flicked my line behind me again and when the Indian whistled cast forward and immediately had another big fish!

"That went on until I was knee-deep in shinminin', squirmmin' steelheads. At last I noticed the Cree hadn't tied a bug on the hook. I spun round sharp. Sir, that red-skin was as bald as a coot!"

The capitalistic deal includes the Key Route Inn at Twenty-second st. and Broadway, which has changed hands twice before this month. The sale was handled by the Fred K. Reed company.

Motorcycle Riders of Albany in Collision Mixup

(Albany Argus) Arthur Kruger, aged 18, has a broken leg and lacerations about the body, and his companion, Fred E. Johnson, 17, is suffering from cuts and bruises received when the motorcycle they were riding collided with an automobile Monday night at Sixty-third st. and San Pablo ave. The driver of the automobile, Clayton Martin, 1768 Allendale ave., was not arrested. After being treated at the Emergency hospital the boys were taken to their homes. Kruger lives at 728 Carmel ave., Albany, and Johnson at 427 San Pablo ave.

Clamor and gossip. Scandal-mongering and inquisition are not the things that go to make a Senate record for "efficiency and competence." Hysteria and partisan treachery are not elements of true statesmanship.

Law Discursive

Novelist Upton Sinclair was considering a certain University.

"A man went to the university town to visit his son, a first-year student. He called at the young fellow's boarding house and said to the landlady:

"You have a Mr. Jones, a student, staying here, I believe?"

"Student?" said the landlady. "Is young Mr. Jones a student? My goodness, I always understood he was a night watchman?"

Adjustable Chair Legs

Chairs with adjustable metal legs have been designed to add to comfort and increase efficiency of the worker. Any change in height from an inch to a foot is made possible by sliding the legs and bolting them to the frame. By altering to suit the individual worker, the chair relieves the strain resulting from being seated too high or too low at a table or desk.

Setting the Pace

The plaintiff, an Italian, talked as fast as his knowledge of English would permit. Looking down at the court reporter, the Italian noticed for the first time that his testimony was being taken down by a reporter, and therupon began to talk faster than ever, until finally he burst forth: "Don't write so fast; I can't keep up with you."

Eight Unlucky Years

Insurance Agent—But, madam, it's a shame to let your husband's policy lapse.

Wife—I'll not pay another penny. I've paid regular for eight years, and I've had no luck yet.

Worse Than Twins

Jigget—I hear you have had an addition to your family.

Nugget—Yes, two.

Twins?"

"No—a baby boy and my wife's mother."

Revert Courteous

"Call yourself a typist, and don't know how to put a ribbon in a typewriter?"

"Well, does Padewski know how to tune a piano?"

Passing of a Salinas Pioneer and Banker Harry Winham

Salinas, March 20.—The funeral of Harry Winham, 64, banker, realtor, rancher and pioneer, was held here Monday under the auspices of the Masonic order. Winham was the oldest son of the early pioneer, W. P. Winham, and the senior member of the firm of Winham Bros., real estate brokers, their father leaving a profitable and well established business to them at his death 30 years ago.

Harry Winham was in apparent good health until heart trouble appeared a month ago. He was taken to a San Francisco hospital last Thursday, where an x-ray examination was made and the heart found to be nearly four times its normal size. Following the examination he became unconscious, lingering until Sunday, when death came.

He leaves three children, two sons and a daughter, William, Edward and Blanche, and brothers Frank and Fred Winham. Winham's estate is valued at $250,000.

New Masonic Building For San Rafael

San Rafael, March 20.—The Masonic hall association of this city has let the contract for one of the most attractive and modern buildings in Central California. The cost of the building, $80,000, will be entirely devoted to lodge purposes.

"Macadocets"

The Democrats have been making much ado about McAdoo, but since his connection with the oil lease scandal enthusiasm has subsided wonderfully. Yet there is a standup element in that party that has given him a clean bill. The office boy wants to know "if his hands was so darned clean why did he have to wash them" by resigning his position with Doheny? If it was ethical to take the money while his father-in-law was President why isn't it ethical to keep on taking it? As Jeff would say to Matt, "Answer me that."

McAdoo will use the radio to broadcast his campaign speeches. Wise thought. It will save him from answering embarrassing questions that may be in the minds of his hearers.

Every accused man should have a chance to prove his innocence. That is quite as important as that no guilty man should be allowed to escape.

Well, this much seems certain: If William G. McAdoo makes any campaign addresses at the old town hall they will probably hang out the sign: "No smoking."

Mr. McAdoo is going to build his own broadcasting station. Perhaps he can find some abandoned oil derrick to use for his aerials.

Revised version—Doheny spells it "McAdieu."

McAdoo Democrats saw in the naval oil reserve scandal a golden opportunity to deal a death blow to the Republican organization if not to the aspirations of President Coolidge for re-election. How could they have known, except through Mr. McAdoo himself, that the thing was to back fire all over the bright new suit they had made to measure for their hand-picked candidate for the Democratic nomination?

Why Not Cooperate

Why do people name dogs of which they are fond for such a desperate creature as Nero? We don't know, but like the boy of whom the Los Angeles Times tells, we must accept the fact.

"Who fiddled while Rome burned?" asked the school teacher.

"Hector, sir."

"No," said the school teacher.

"Tower, sir."

"Tower!" exclaimed the teacher.

"What do you mean? It was Nero."</p

FIRST RETURNS GIVE COOLIDGE BIG LEAD

JOHNSON IN SECOND PLACE WITH LA FOLLETTE TRAILING

NORTH DAKOTA GIVES PRESIDENT TWO TO ONE

Presidential Primaries File Up 14,271
Votes for Coolidge in First 265 Precincts Heard From. Johnson's Manager Undecided.

Bismarck, N. D.—The first 243 of North Dakota's 2,058 precincts in the Republican presidential primary gave:

Coolidge	1,371
Johnson	6,058
La Follette	4,276

Fargo, N. D.—President Coolidge jumped into the lead in the early returns of the Republican state primaries and when the first ninety-four precincts in Minot, Grand Forks and Fargo were tabulated he had more than a two-to-one lead over his nearest opponent, Senator Hiram Johnson of California. The vote then read:

Coolidge	8,156
Johnson	3,828
La Follette	1,961

William G. McAdoo ran unopposed for the Democratic endorsement.

The eleventh-hour efforts of La Follette's corps of staunch supporters made inroads into the Johnson calculations. Although only two names—those of President Coolidge and Senator Johnson—appeared on the Republican ballot, many voters wrote in the name of the Wisconsin solon. Weather was ideal throughout the day and a large vote is reported to have been cast.

Although national attention was focused on the Coolidge-Johnson fight for the Republican nomination, state interest was centered on the referred laws, which if passed, would wipe out party designations. These laws are sponsored by opponents of the Non-Partisan league.

U. L. Burdick, chairman of Senator Johnson's campaign committee, was undaunted by early returns which left his candidate far in the rear.

"I am satisfied President Coolidge will be the choice of the Republicans," L. B. Hanna, manager of the president's campaign, stated before the count had started.

La Follette's campaign director, F. A. Vogel, expressed himself as "highly optimistic" during the day.

INSURANCE BONUS MEASURE IS PASSED BY THE HOUSE

Washington.—The house has passed the insurance bonus and has placed it in the hands of the senate. While verbal opposition to the measure was vigorous, though necessarily limited, only fifty-four votes were recorded against the bill, while 255 favored it. The forty minutes of debate which preceded passage of the measure were tense. Representatives were limited to one, two and even half a minute speeches. Opposition came from those who favored a straight cash payment, and those who frowned on any bonus at all.

Cost of the Green bill will amount to slightly more than $2,000,000,000, spread over a period of twenty years. The annual cost in the first three years will be $135,000,000; during the next seven years, $113,000,000, and in the last ten, $70,000,000.

Senate Confirms Wilbur
Washington.—The senate has confirmed the nomination of Judge Curtis Dwight Wilbur of California to be secretary of the navy. U. S. WOULD OWE ALLIES ON PRINCIPAL PROPOSED France's Influence Blamed By European Countries For Failure to Keep Faith With Uncle Sam—England Bitterly Attacked.

Vienna.—Secretary of State Hughes has rejected the inter-allied clearing house proposal that was proffered by Premier Poincaré of France last December.

In his flat rejection, the secretary pointed out that the American debt funding commission had no authority to participate in the new clearing house, nor to analyze war debts and war sacrifices.

The Poincaré plan proposed to have experts of the allies and associated countries rearrange the cost of war on a basis of money and lives. War debts would then be rearranged on a basis of equal sacrifice.

By this plan the United States would be under obligation to the allies as from the very outset of hostilities and would owe the allies money instead of being owed money by many of them.

According to the member of the French diplomatic corps who revealed the Hughes note, Rumania, Poland, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, all of whom are coerced by France, are greatly disappointed by the American refusal. These countries have been influenced by France not to fund their debts and have been participants in various schemes to bring about cancellations.

He stated that were it not for the efforts of France many of the other debtor nations would be willing to keep their pledges and make payments. As it is, there is bitter feeling toward Great Britain for having funded their loans from the United States.

It has been pointed out that every American diplomat on the continent has reported to the state department the pressure France is bringing to bear.

The diplomat stated that the real purpose of the Jugoslav funding commission that is coming to America is to borrow more money and not to prepare payments of the present indebtedness.

CALIFORNIA SWINDLES LAID TO MINE COMPANY HEAD

New York.—Charles Peter of Salt Lake City, president of the International Mascot Mining company of Pocatello, Idaho, is held in $25,000 bail here on charges of grand larceny in connection with alleged stock swindles covering a period of nine years, extending from New York to California and said to have caused suicides, insanity and destitute homes.

The defendants were found guilty in December, 1922, of conspiracy to obstruct passage of the United States mail and interference with interstate commerce in violation of the Clayton act, and their appeal was disallowed by the United States circuit court of appeals.

Will Your Family Be Happy This Spring?

If yours is one of the few remaining families lacking an automobile, no doubt you have finally decided to get one within the next four months.

A low-priced modern automobile like the Chevrolet has become indispensable to the family of modern Americans. A million other families can easily prove to you that the way is with Chevrolet. The beauties of nature, the interesting and educational features of other places and ways of living remain things to read about or see dimly in cold photographs until you are free to get them at your convenience and pleasure.

But, suppose you have definitely decided to buy a Chevrolet since you do not know exactly when you are going to get it. Anyone posted on conditions of the automobile market will tell you that thousands of families are going to be unable to get cars this spring. This has been true almost every spring for the last ten years. There are just two ways of making sure of getting your Chevrolet for use when the flowers and balmy breezes of spring lure you to the country roads—buy it now or order it now.

If you do not want to pay for it in full at this time, any Chevrolet dealer will arrange terms to suit your convenience. You will be surprised to learn how easy it is to pay for a Chevrolet and use it while you are paying for it.

Please realize these statements are made by us in good faith and we cannot justly say about the possible difficulties of getting a car if you wait this spring if you wait until then to order it. The only way to be sure of a Chevrolet this Spring is to order it NOW.

He Spatified All Right

A Southern negro minister who was given to the use of big words and complicated discourse was waited upon by the church committee and told that his style of preaching was not all that could be desired.

"Don't I arify and spatty?" inquired the minister.

"Yes, yo' done arify and spatty," responded a member of the committee, "but yo' don't show wherein."—Boston Evening Transcript.

Largest Lens Snaps Star

One of the world's largest cameras was made recently by the United States Bureau of Standards to photograph astronomical observations. It is six feet long, four feet wide and two and one-half feet high. It uses plates eleven by fourteen inches. The lens is said to be the largest photographic lens ever manufactured in the United States.—Popular Science Monthly.

Dangerous

The Honolulu Star-Bulletin publishes what is hailed as the first genuine mah-jongg story. "There has just come to Honolulu the story of a maid who went to the lady of the house and said she feared she would have to find another place. 'But why?' her alarmed employer asked. 'Because,' the maid replied, 'I fear your husband is losing his mind. I found him on his hands and knees in the living room, and when I asked him what he was doing, he said he was looking for the East Wind.'

Better Homes in America

The American home is the foundation of our national and individual well-being.—President Calvin Coolidge

The U. S. A. Garden Nation of the World in 1930.

Better Homes in America, here are two slogans to conjure with. They cry on a vast army of Americans fighting for two national causes that are so inseparable as to be practically one and the same. More gardens means better homes. Better homes means more gardens. Therefore the "Garden Nation of 1930" will have "Better Homes." So the organized clubwomen are to be congratulated—they are the shock troops of one army and active belligerents in the other.

The first attack in force in the 1924 campaign will be made April 20-25, the second annual National Garden week.

The second mass movement will be made May 11-18, the third Better Homes in America Demonstration week.

The plain truth is that Uncle Sam didn't wake up when opportunity knocked at his door with her call to establish a permanent national home garden on the foundation of war garden experience. The patriotic war garden was rapidly becoming a national institution, with substantial development along scientific lines. Now the work has to be done all over again.

And now the appeal is not to the exaltation of a patriotic war spirit, but to common, ordinary, everyday human nature—which is a very different thing.

The Better Homes in America movement was begun in 1922 by Mrs. William Brown Meloney, editor of the Delinquent, and an advisory council of which Calvin Coolidge was honorary head and Herbert Hoover chairman. It quickly assumed such national importance that the magazine, which had provided generous financial support, withdrew from all connection with it to allow it to be taken over by a permanent educational, noncommercial organization, incorporated in Delaware as a public service corporation, with headquarters in Washington.

President Coolidge remains chairman of the advisory council, which includes Secretaries Hoover, Work and Davis and twenty-four other men and women of national importance, such as Julius H. Barnes, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce; Dr. Hugh S. Cumming, United States surgeon general; Livingston Garrison, American Child Health Association; Dr. Lee E. Frankel, chairman National Health Council; Mrs. John Lyons, president National Federation of Music Clubs; Mrs. W. C. Martin, chairman women's division, Federation of Patriotic and Home Bureaus; Theodore Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy; John Burton Payne, head of the Ameri-

Why Pay the Penalty of Lying Awake?

MANY people spend hours at night, restlessly tossing from side to side, waiting for sleep. All because they drink coffee with their evening meal.

If the caffeine in coffee irritates your nervous system and keeps you awake when you should be asleep, recuperating your energies, why not stop coffee and drink Postum?

Monkeys With Forked Tails

Forked-tailed monkeys, described in Chinese literature as inhabiting the foothills of the province of Kwang-shau, are among the objectives of a scientific expedition to explore that region. Some doubt is held as to the existence of such a species. However, the skin of a huge monkey, believed to have been a member of the largest non-humanoid species in existence, was exhibited recently by an explorer, who had shot the animal while hunting in the wilds of the territory and indicated that a variety of simians, yet unknown, may be found.

tenement service, the forest service and the bureau of plant industry. It has the approval and good wishes of official Washington.

President Coolidge writes Mrs. Wirtz:

National Garden week seems now to be well on the way.

President Coolidge writes Mrs. Wirtz:

Secretary Hoover writes Mrs. Sherman:

It adds to our appreciation and understanding of life. It builds self-respect in the individual and in the community and it may become enabling to the development and form of public service.

April 20-25 will not synchronize with actual garden-making in all localities of the United States, but the program of activities is so large that every community can feature, as Mrs. Sherman puts it, "some of the many phases of gardening in its relation to the home and the life of the community in terms of health, education and prosperity."

The general plan is for a community to buy, rent, or build a house, which is then equipped as an educational exhibit of what a home should be.

Public demonstration is made of house and contents and of methods to make home life attractive.

The general plan is for a community to buy, rent, or build a house, which is then equipped as an educational exhibit of what a home should be.

The aims of Better Homes in America are comprehensive, covering every phase of home-making. The guidebook for 1924 contains instructions and programs.

A Business Such as conducted by the P. G. and E. Without Profit

IT does not seem plausible. Yet, it is true. The P. G. and E. operates without profit, as the word "profit" is generally understood.

Neither is this Company operated on the "cost plus" plan. Legal restrictions make that impossible.

The P. G. and E. is a public utility concern. As such, it is regulated by the Railroad Commission — the People's legally appointed agent.

Rates heretofore fixed are only high enough to cover cost of help, materials, taxes, and to permit a fair interest return on the reasonable cost of the properties used.

The Law does not sanction rates high enough to create revenues in excess of such costs — and it does not guarantee the Company against loss.

By careful, efficient management, the Company earns enough to pay expenses — and to pay its security holders a fair rate of interest on the money invested in the operative properties of the business.

This "interest return" is the only "profit" allowed.

Invest in Something Reliable —

Ask Your Banker

Are you becoming identified with the community in which you live and work, or are you just drifting along with no special aim in mind? Why not start now with the determination to set aside a dollar a week or any sum that you can regularly save and deposit it in a savings bank where it will draw interest?

When you have accumulated fifty or a hundred dollars talk with a reliable investment banker and invest your savings in the stocks or bonds of some sound company doing business in your locality.

You will no longer drift if you adopt this policy. You will draw cash dividends from the prosperity you have helped to establish. You will take a new interest in life for you will have become a factor in community development.

Save regularly regardless of how small the amount may be. Then invest intelligently by conferring with persons who make investments a specialty.

Education Via the Ear
The educational value of the radio to families in their homes and on the farms is becoming more fully appreciated. From one western broadcasting station people in cities and towns and thousands of farm homes in the country enjoy daily entertainment. Lectures from great educational centers scattered over thirty-one states are heard from one super-station.

A family in Ferndale, Cal., hears concerts from Portland, Or., and farmers from Livingston, Mont., enjoy concerts from Des Moines, Iowa. The pleasure that a whole family gets from nation-wide music and lectures is intensified by the fact that they have been deprived of these privileges until the discovery of the radio.

It Requires Co-Operation
Resources alone will not build a city. Capital alone cannot build a city. Labor alone cannot build a city. Resources and capital and labor cannot build a city unless they are properly related. Capital and labor can accomplish anything within the power of man, if they occupy the right attitude toward each other. They can be aided in this work if the third party, the public itself, is friendly and sympathetic with their efforts.

Radio Is in Its Infancy
C. Francis Jenkins of Washington, before the Thomson Radio club at the General Electric Co. Lynn plant, predicts as a development in the near future the sending of photographs by radio so that they will be reproduced on the receiving end as clearly as "cuts" now printed in newspapers and magazines.

The use of radio is still in its infancy, but new and marvelous uses to which it may be put are crowding hard and fast on the wings of time and the end is not yet.

No great loss without some small gain, they say, and the exposures in the Teapot Dome oil scandal should have one good result at least; for hereafter the politician that is tempted is likely to think a second time before he gives way to the temptation, realizing that after what has happened in the present case it is almost impossible to keep the truth from getting out sooner or later.

The Terminal is on the air all the public hours in Contra Costa county for hundreds of readers.
